Ford Airport Opens Top Floor Of Parking Ramp

In response to ongoing customer preference for close-in long-term parking, and to best accommodate the increased Spring Break demand, the 4th floor of the parking ramp at Gerald R. Ford International was opened today. The 4th floor of the four-level ramp had been closed since the ramp opened in November 2009, but recent moderate weather, and strong customer demand, led airport officials to open the top floor of the ramp earlier today. Approximately 900 additional long-term spaces are now available.
